Abstract

The seminar presents the book “National Health Services of Western Europe” (2023, edited by Guido Giarelli and Mike Saks) and discusses it in a multidisciplinary perspective. The book draws on research within neo-Weberian and neo-institutionalist theories to critically analyse NHSs in Western Europe. Exploring the challenges posed by neo-liberal policies, it looks at the impact of the role of the state, the medical profession, the public and the medical-industrial complex in their development.
